JEE-O completes line with touchless design

- ✓ Functional design
- ✓ Water efficient
- ✓ Hygienic
- ✓ Available in multiple series

The latest JEE-O launch proves that functionality and design can go hand in hand: the electronic wall basin tap. With this new touchless design, JEE-O responds to market demand, specifically from project developers and architects.

The electronic wall basin mixer has a 90-degree outlet and is already available in the slimline series. The mixer taps come in brushed stainless steel, structured black, bronze and gold. The subtle and minimalist design of the slimline series makes it easy to combine with the other JEE-O designs.

The technology is obviously not new. It is hygienic and water efficient and perfectly reflects the current zeitgeist. But the fact that, besides functionality, the high-end design remains intact is unique. And that of the high-quality materials like stainless steel. Stunningly beautiful and super strong.

And there's good news for those wanting to stay in the same line. The touchless wall basin tap will also be introduced to the soho, pure and cone series. The soho electronic wall basin mixer will be available in stainless steel RAW and hammercoated black. The pure series will be extended with an electronic wall basin tap in brushed stainless steel, bronze and gold. And the cone series the electronic wall basin tap will be available in stainless steel brushed and gun metal.
